

Implementation Environment – Create a Java Program

- Click on the Create Button for the Project -

- A dialogue window will appear, The editor will appear and allow you to write code as soon as you click the Create button

Implementation Environment – Compile and Execute

- Click on the .java file a public class will appear of the same name.
- Create the main method and write the logic inside the main method.
- Write the Java program as instructed and compile and run the program by using the Run and Compile buttons.
 - Pass the .java file name as an argument and compile the program to generate the .class file.
 - Pass the filename without the .java extension and run the program.
- Provide the Scanner inputs in the terminal when the program is run.

Implementation Environment – Verify Output

- Click on the Verify Button and Submit to verify your code.
- The assignment will get populated automatically.
- Give the required class name.
- Click on Submit to Verify button.

Submission Instructions

- After successful execution and verification of the program click on Submit to RAAS to submit the code for further review

